Dear Buyers,

There are a few special things that you remember when you are a kid. Maybe it's Mom reading your favorite bedtime book, or Dad teaching you how to dribble a ball, or even a teddy bear or blanket that you have kept. These are special things about your childhood that you will always keep with you. The things that make you feel good and smile. The things that make you feel comfortable and safe. That is exactly why we created the "Everybody Loves Me!" Talking Photo Pillow ... to give the happy, comfortable, safe, and cozy feeling all kids (and adults) need. You will always be able to share that special connection with Mom, Dad, Grandma, Grandpa and other friends and family members. Whenever we think of these people, they will be there on the "Everybody Loves Me!" Talking Photo Pillow. That is the unique quality these pillows are offering. That is the gift we are giving. To have all of those special people at your fingertips, even if they aren't there, because a picture is worth a thousand feelings. And ... hearing the voice of a loved one when you are apart is always comforting. The "Everybody Loves Me!" Talking Photo Pillows are something you will always remember and keep near and dear to your heart at any age.

The "Everybody Loves Me!" Talking Photo Pillow is for children, teens and adults of all ages. Everyone needs to be told and reminded that they are loved and cared for. But the pillow was originally made for children and teens living in two homes to solve the problem of children being 'stuck in the middle' of their parents' emotions. The children and teens can have pictures of one family on one side of the pillow and the other family on the other side and not feel that they are hurting anyone's feelings. They will always be surrounded by the people that love them ... even when they aren't with them. Parents can make their own messages with the record/play chip inserted in the pillow. The "Everybody Loves Me!" Pillow is worth a thousand wonderful feelings!
